Research & Entrepreneurship Day

Research and Entrepreneurship Day is an annual campus event designed to bring greater exposure to Stevens research programs, capabilities and achievements, and foster relationships with industry to offer insight and solutions to their business needs. R&E Day will feature three keynote speeches and highlights from the following research communities:

- National Center for Secure and Resilient Maritime Commerce and Coastal Environments (CSR)
- Systems Engineering Research Center (SERC).

Other activities include poster sessions, faculty technology presentations, and the student technology pitch olympics.

Stevens, a hotbed of technological innovation, showcases R&E Day for nascent academic technologies that frequently seed profitable start-up companies. Industry, venture capital, and government representatives are expected to attend seeking to exploit opportunities for new ideas and partnership.

Student Technology Pitch Olympics:

Student entrepreneurs will be participating in a Technology Pitch Olympics, sponsored by the Environmental Entrepreneurship Lab. In this event, students will be presenting an elevator pitch to a panel of experts including:

- Steve Royster, NJEDA
- Mario Casabona, Casabona Ventures
- Jay Trien, VANJ
- Michel Bitritto, NJMC Business Accelerator
- Carmen deMattis, Lowenstein Sandler

Faculty Technology Presentations:

Faculty technology presentations will focus on recently disclosed patent applications in two main areas, Life Sciences and IT Security. A panel of experts will discuss the technology and presentation, and provide the researchers with feedback regarding its commercial potential.

Life Science Experts Include:

- Ulrich Grau, Lux Bio
- Marty Jeiven, Jeiven Consulting
- Lance Ladic, Siemens
- Pete Fusco, Lowenstein Sandler

IT Security Experts include:

- Ray Thek, Lowenstein Sandler
- Bill Carson, Hudson Partners
- Mark Davis, DFJ Gotham

The E² Lab – a Technogenesis[®] Initiative

The Environmental Entrepreneurship Lab, E² Lab, is an NSF funded project whose goal is to evaluate new approaches that help accelerate commercialization of innovative environmental science and technology. The time savings will come primarily from eliminating the main bottlenecks in the conventional tech transfer process through direct integration of market intelligence into the invention process. To learn more about the E² Lab, visit www.stevens.edu/entrepreneurship/e2lab.

To learn more about these research communities, please visit our website at www.Stevens.edu/ResearchDay.
