

Springs in Sequence

Suppose you have two springs A and B , each hanging from the ceiling. If you attach a mass m to each, they are displaced by a and b respectively. If the two springs are placed in series (that is, one spring hanging off the other) and a mass m is attached, what is the total displacement of the union? What about if they are placed in parallel?