

Time and Altitude

Suppose you take a trip to Mt. Everest and bring two identical clocks with you. You leave one clock near the base of Everest at sea level and take one to the peak of the mountain, and then start them at the same time. What time will the clock at the base read when the two clocks differ by one second?