Sudeep Kanjilal
Chief Digital Officer and Chief Data Officer- Issuer Services at BNY Mellon

Sudeep drove innovation in digital payments (ApplePay, Square Cash), digital security, and digital business models and has co-authored and rolled-out industry standards and network rules for EMV, contactless, tokenization, payment wallet, and P2P, risk/fraud/chargeback. He worked with the Financial Services Authority and the top UK banks to build out real-time payment network (Vocalink), and then led the integration of Vocalink into MasterCard network. He worked with the Fed as part of the faster payment task force to determine the strategy and rules for roll-out of real-time payment network in U.S., based on Vocalink platform. He has also worked closely with Amazon, Facebook, AirBnB, and Uber to help design and roll out the payment wallets, and then overall marketplace solutions.

Rohit Mittal
Co-founder and CEO, Stilt

Rohit has extensive experience in the credit risk analytics and data science space. He spent years building credit risk and fraud models for the top U.S. banks. In his current role, he defines the overall business strategy, leads fundraising efforts (both debt and capital), leads product development, and other customer-related aspects for the company. Stilt has raised $7.5M in equity and $200M in debt capital. Prior to founding Stilt, Rohit worked in the data analytics consulting team at Argus Information and Advisory Services (now Verisk Analytics). He went on to become the founding member of the data science team at Popsugar, where he helped them build the analytics framework for data science efforts across the company. Rohit has a bachelor’s degree from Delhi College of Engineering (industrial engineering) and a master’s in operations research (conc. in finance) from Columbia University.

Rabih Ramadi
Head of Financial Services & Insurance, Unqork

Rabih leads Financial Services & Insurance for Unqork. In his role, he is responsible for driving the product and growth of Unqork across financial service and insurance segments. Prior to Unqork, Rabih was a senior partner at KPMG, where he was the global leader for Goldman Sachs, the firm’s largest capital market client, and a sector leader for capital market and investment management. Rabih earned his MBA from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania and his M.S. in engineering management and systems engineering from Cornell University.