To the Stevens Community:

As Stevens Institute of Technology approaches the sesquicentennial anniversary of its founding in 1870, I am pleased to announce the formation of a Steering Committee to guide the planning of our year-long celebration in 2020. Our sesquicentennial will offer many opportunities to honor and celebrate the University's historic past and to engage our extended campus community in looking ahead to a bright future.

The committee will solicit input from the community to recommend a series of programs and events that will: (i) create excitement, engagement, and recognition for the historic role that Stevens and its graduates have played in technological innovation and broader contributions to society for 150 years, (ii) highlight the recent accomplishments of our faculty, students and alumni, and (iii) and accelerate the University's progress toward achieving its strategic goals and enhancing its reputation as a major technological research university.

Please join me in sharing your thoughts with and thanking the members of the Steering Committee for their service on this important committee.

- Mr. Brodie Remington, Vice President for Development (Co-Chair)
- Mr. Edward Stukane, Vice President for Communications and Marketing (Co-Chair)
- Dr. Seth Cluett, Assistant Professor of Music and Technology
- Mr. John Dalton, '60
- Mr. Owen Jappen, '13
- Ms. Leah Loscutoff, Head of Archives and Special Collections Librarian
- Ms. Beth McGrath, Chief of Staff and Director of Government and Community Relations
- Mr. Samuel Reckford, Trustee and descendant of the Stevens family
- Ms. Lauren Sachs, Class of '20

I look forward to the contributions of the committee and the larger Stevens community in conceptualizing an extraordinary and unforgettable series of celebrations.

Per aspera ad astra,

Nariman Farvardin
President
