To the Stevens Community,

Thank you to all who have devoted time to meeting with and attending the presentations of the finalists for the Provost position who have been visiting campus. By tomorrow, three of the four finalists will have concluded their campus visits, with the last visit scheduled for next week, May 12-13.

Feedback from the Stevens community is a very influential aspect of the process of selecting the next Provost for Stevens. I would therefore like to underscore my invitation to submit input about the candidates via the online surveys created for this purpose.

These surveys are linked on the secure site and will be open through Friday, May 13th at 12 p.m. You are encouraged to submit feedback about the candidates with whom you have met so far. Please see the individual web pages for each candidate on this site for the schedules, CVs, and the survey pertaining to each candidate.

Thank you again for your participation in this critically important process.

Per aspera ad astra,

Nariman Farvardin
President
