To the Stevens Community,

As you know, over the last two weeks, four finalists for the Position of Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs visited our campus, met with faculty, staff and students, and made a presentation to the community.

As we advance to a resolution of this process, I seek the input of the community to assess the candidates and their suitability for this position. I will carefully review all feedback received from the community and incorporate this input into my analysis of the finalists.

Please log in to the secure site to complete a brief survey on each candidate. This site will remain open only until tomorrow, Friday, May 13th at 12 p.m.

Thank you for your time and contributions to this critically important process that will lead to the appointment of a new Provost at Stevens.

Per aspera ad astra,

Nariman Farvardin
President
