To the Stevens Community:

I am pleased to share with you this brief video on what has been a remarkably successful spring semester — one in which, despite many challenges, our university has thrived.

Once again, I want to thank all members of the Stevens community who have persevered this past year, working hard to ensure that the state of the university is strong. I am proud to say that Stevens is now poised to continue its advancement to higher levels of distinction and prominence.

As we prepare for a full return to operations this fall, I am filled with great optimism and renewed hope for the future. I am eager to see you on campus in the near future, and I wish you a healthy and happy summer.

Per aspera ad astra,

Nariman Farvardin
President
